

Ascora GmbH is an SME IT company based in northern Germany. Our headquarters is located in Delmenhorst and we have a secondary office in Oldenburg; both offices are located in Lower Saxony, Germany.

Since 1994 we have been developing and selling software as an Independent Software Vendor with products that are used around the world. We offer business solutions as well as solutions for end users.

Business Solutions

Ascora offers IT consulting services to national and international companies. We are involved in several projects which allow us to both keep in touch with cutting-edge technologies and to continuously improve our skills. Ever-growing knowledge levels enable Ascora to solve the most complex problems and produce the high quality results our clients have come to expect. Ascora offers a variety of services. Our main activities are in the following domains:

- ★ Planning, conceptualization and realization of complex information systems
- ★ Semantic interoperability and integration aspects
- ★ Development and prototyping of SOA based solutions
- ★ Technology selection and realization in the eCommerce domain
- ★ Implementation of Desktop, Web, and Mobile solutions

Software Development

We are one of the leading providers of Windows Tools in Germany. Our software solutions are sold and distributed under our label "Abelssoft" and are used by over 500.000 registered users. We provide a wide variety of solution including PC cleanup tools (WashAndGo), multimedia applications (Song Downloader) and security software solutions (CryptBox).

We provide more than 16 years of experience developing system optimization software. All our programs are targeted to end users and are characterized by both extraordinarily high quality and an easy-to-use user interface.

Certified Skills

Our developers are highly skilled in the creation of Windows applications. We cannot only reference to a long experience of our company but we can also proof highest excellence of our team members. For example, each of our developers has been certified by Microsoft as a "Microsoft Certified Professional" (MCP).

Business Model

As a modern IT company, Ascora makes extensive use of the advantages the internet provides. This allows us to offer all our programs directly to end users, without having to rely on third party selling channels. Our multi-lingual online store allows our customers to download the software they want, on-the-spot, and to securely purchase the licenses. We offer many different payment options and accept all major credit cards. Software licenses are usually delivered within minutes after purchase.

Innovation

We strongly believe that innovation is the key to success. We therefore invest a large portion of our income into the development of new products and into internal and external research activities. Our key competences in this area include:

- ★ Service Oriented Architectures (SOA)
- ★ Semantics and Ontologies
- ★ Interoperability between IT solutions
- ★ Next generation eCommerce solutions
